Description

The Frosty Mountain Ultra and 25 km trail race is located in beautiful Manning Park just 2.5 hours east of Vancouver. The race will start in the parking lot of Lightning Lake and ascend to the summit of Frosty Mountain which is the highest peak in Manning Park at 7900 feet (2408 meters). The race will take you through spectacular, non-technical terrain including lush forest, stunning flower-covered meadows to the dry sub-alpine region where you will have a spectacular 360° view. After reaching the summit, the race will descend rapidly to the south side of Lightning Lake. The 25km race will turn off to finish back at Lightning Lake parking lot while the 50km race will continue around Lightning and Strike Lake followed by a relatively easy climb up Sky Line Trail 1 returning via Strawberry Flats to Lightning Lake parking lot. The 13km a relatively easy undulating trail around Lightning Lake.

Aid Stations

Due to the remote location of the race, aid will be limited to approximately four stations; therefore, be prepared and plan to carry lots of water.
